Donor Tips

- Keep this receipt for your tax purposes. Goodwill does not maintain records of donations.
- Goodwill does not repair broken items, and the disposal of those items takes away much-needed funds from our mission. A good rule of thumb is if you would give it to a friend, you can give it to Goodwill.
- Donate during regular operating hours. An attendant will be on duty to help you unload your donation.
- Goodwill offers limited pick-up service. For more information, and to determine if you qualify, please visit giveit2goodwill.org/pickups.
- Follow the one-year rule: if you haven't worn it, used it or played it in one year, give it to Goodwill.

Valuing Your Donation

All donations to Goodwill are 100 percent tax-deductible. However, federal law states that clothing and household goods must be in "good used condition or better" for tax purposes. For help determining the value of your donation, please review IRS publications 526 and 561. We suggest you consult with a tax advisor if necessary. Based on IRS regulations, Goodwill donation attendants cannot place a value on your donations. Visit itsdeductibleonline.intuit.com for assistance with valuing your donations and other important tax information.
